Republican vice-presi- dential nomination, at a round of meetings and conferences. Before a Republican rally at Norumbega Park the nominees again ad- vocated a higher protective tariff and called for the election of the Republican ticket to put it into effect. He said the Democrats were prepared to remodel the tariff down- ward along the lines of the Under- wood bill of 1913.

To a crowd on Boston Common he declared his record of the record of the party's Administration during the last seven years and asked for its retention in power on that record. He stated that during that period income taxes have been cut four times, the National debt has been sliced by about $7,000,000,000 and appropriations have been reduced from $7,000,000,000 to about $4,000,000,000.

The name of President Coolidge was mentioned by every speaker of the day and always provoked ap- plause. The Senator emphasized that the policies of Herbert Hoover and of himself were the "policies of Calvin Coolidge."

Touching on the ailing textile in- dustry situation, the Senator told the crowd which filled the theater at Norumbega Park that he would put the duty on cotton high enough to protect American producers and give the producers the American market."

The Kansan also took some shots at Governor Smith. Declaring he had proposed to put the prohibition ser- vice under civil service and "apparent- ly forgets that a Republican Ad- ministration already has done that."

"If he is correctly quoted," Curtis continued in referring to Governor Smith, "He would wipe out one of the great bureaus which spends $500,000,000 annually for the veter- ans—the Veterans' Bureau. He says he will give us a wonderful building programme. If properly in- formed he would know that this Administration has given the Nation the greatest public building program in history."

At the exercises on the common the Senator referred to Herbert Hoover as one "who stands today without equal in the services he has rendered to the people of the world and one who has shown his interest in the family, the home, and the Nation."

Still Near Church Seized By Officers
A 40-gallon still concealed in high weeds, within a few hundred yards of the Howard Park Methodist Epis- copal Church was found by Charles Lambert and Roy Negley, Federal agents and Harry Upchurch, Jeffers- onville policeman, Wednesday afternoon. The still was in operation at the time of its discovery, according to the report of the officers.

High weeds between the banks of the Ohio river and the church con- cealed the still from the road where hundreds of motorists passed daily. No one was near the still when it was found, the operators apparently having been warned of the approach of the officers. Th officers found 180 gallons of mash and three gallons of moonshine whiskey and seized the still. Information that four men were operating it the officers said, had been given to them.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS
Mrs. Louise Clark, 119 Eighth street, a seamstress, filed suit for divorce against Charles Clark. The couple was married February 11, 1922 and separated May 11, 1922. She alleges that he cursed her, abused her and called her vile names and that he was habitually drunk.

Mrs. Lula M. Sachtelbeep, 633 Illinois avenue, entered suit for divorce against Wm. H. Sachtelbeep. She charges in her complaint that Sachtelbeep was habitually drunk for eight years from the date she married him. The couple was mar- ried February 19, 1920 and sepa- rated August 20, 1928. In addition to a decree for divorce she asks for the restoration of her maiden name Lula M. Friend.

SUES FOR INSURANCE
Ida D. Elker filed suit against the Seaman Tribe Ben Hur of Crawfords- ville, Indiana for $500, the balance of a $1,000 insurance policy which the plaintiff alleges is due her on account of the death of her husband, Charles Elker, who died from lock-jaw on May 21, 1927.

The plaintiff alleges that she can- not produce the original certificate because the company, through its agents, took this certificate up while she was sick in bed at the time they paid $500 on the insurance and she has since then been unable to secure the original certificate or the $500 balance. H. W. Phipps is the attorney for the plaintiff.

ASKS DIVORCE, ALIMONY
Emma Broy filed suit for divorce from Frank Broy, stating the couple was married September 21, 1911 and separated September 3, 1928. She charges cruel and inhuman treatment and alleges that the defendant called her-vile and vulgar names and refused to give her the proper care and support.

She states the defendant earns $28 a week and asks that she be given an allowance for support of herself and four children of $15 weekly. She also asks for the custody of the children, alleging that the defendant is not the proper person to care for them. The children, all minors, are: James F., 14; Arnold, 12; Maries, 7; Rudolph, 3 years of age. Chas. A. Hunt is attorney for the plaintiff.

J. Frazier, Gerald P. Nye, and others high in their party councils, the Non- partisan wing of the Republican party in North Dakota today refused to endorse the candidacy of Herbert Hoover for the Presidency.

The Independent wing of the party, however, endorsed Hoover and the re- cord of the Republican party with respect to helping agriculture.

Action was taken at the meeting to organize the Republican State Gen- eral Committee, on which the Non- and the Independents twenty-one.

As a result of the Nonpartisan re- fusal to support Hoover and Curtis, the Independents organized separat- ily and will lead the fight for the Re- publican ticket.

Nonpartisan action came on a res- olution to endorse Hoover and Curtis, offered by a committee of Independ- ents.

The Hoover proponents were beaten by committee-men from districts which are particularly antagonistic to the Coolidge policies. This action, re- moved all possibility of Republican harmony in the campaign.

Resolutions adopted by the Non- partisans made it clear, however, that their action was based on lack of faith in the Republican party, and its candidates, rather than on a desire to support Smith.

Two Balt faction Nonpartisan backers of the resolution favoring Hoover were Stephen Terhorst of Donnanbrook, named by the Republican campaign organiza- tion for the Middle West to manage the Hoover-Curtis Clubs in this State, Fred J. Graham of Ellettsdale, Repub- lican National Committeeman, and other Nonpartisans who had urged that the radical wing of the party re- main regular in this campaign.

In their resolutions the Nonpartisans attacked Hoover as a "tool of big business," and declared that the Republican party had strayed far from its original aims.

When the vote on the Hoover res- olution was announced Terhorst and Graham bolted the Nonpartisan meet- ing and tonight had joined with the Independent faction.
