"A BRILLIANT EVENT"

The Marriage of Mr. Joseph Beebe to Miss May E. Beard at the Armory Last Evening

"A Profusion of Bridal Gifts"

"The social event of the season culminated last evening at 8 o'clock in the celebration of the nuptials of Miss May E. Beard to Mr. Joseph Beebe. The ceremony took place at the Armory of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, New Albany, and was witnessed by about three hundred invited guests. At 7:30 the Jeffersonville Division headed by the drum corps arrived, and going to the Armory were met by the New Albany Division who formed into line and marched to the residence of the bride elect to escort them to the hall. At 8:30 the Divisions returned to the Armory and preceding the wedding pair, ascended the stairs to the hall when they formed themselves into a triangle. The bride and groom elect, at a given signal slowly marched to the center where they were met by Rev. J. W. Clokey, of the First Presbyterian Church, who performed the blessings of the tie in a beautiful and impressive manner. There were no attendants. The scene was a gorgeous one. Paulsen's and Jenks' Orchestra, comprising about thirty pieces, were seated on the rostrum and discoursed the sweetest music that has been heard for many a day.

"The music ceasing for a while and the Uniform Ranks regaining their former positions, congratulations followed and were of the most cordial and devoid of any cold formality. Dancing for awhile was indulged in, after which the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Beard, parents of the bride, assisted by friends, was further exemplified in the service of a splendid repast.

"At 10:30 the assemblage dispersed, accompanied by the orchestra and repaired to the residence of the bride, where another reception was held.

"Miss Beard was dressed in faultless attire consisting of cream cashmere, most exquisitely trimmed in rich valenciennes lace and natural flowers. Her handsome appearance and dignified bearing presented a picture to the beholder of rare beauty.

"The groom was dressed in the conventional black and looked well.

"An attempt to fitly describe the elaborate display of bridal presents would be futile. They were simply magnificent and were so numerous as to cover several tables at the residence. The duplication of many articles so often seen, was notably absent, and they took a wide range in the utility as well as the ornamentation.

"Mr. and Mrs. Beebe will forego the usual bridal tour further than Columbus, Indiana, where Mr. Beebe is connected with the train dispatchers office of the J. M. & I. Company. They will board at the St. Dennis in that city.

"It was a union of the heart, the hand and unsullied love that has for months been held for each other. Their friends here bespeak for them good cheer on their matrimonial voyage down the river.

Seek Smaller Wheat Crop For Next Year

Government Officials Offer 3 Plans To Farm Group

Government officials at Washington, D. C., suggested today a limitation be enforced on the acreage they plant for harvest next year.

H. R. Tolley, AAA administrator, Secretary Wallace and economists of the Agriculture Department made the suggestion at the conference.

Although it will be several months before the wheat yields this year can be known, it was stated the conference was called at the present time to allow plenty of time for shaping the 1938 farm program before farmers start sowing winter wheat this fall.

Three avenues were offered to wheat growers next year:

- (1) A national limit on wheat acreage could be established similar to the corn acreage limit used this year.
- (2) Bases or quotas could be fixed for individual wheat farmers similar to those used for cotton farmers.
- (3) The present policy of no definite limitation on wheat could be continued.

The first two proposals would mean reduced Federal benefit payments for farmers who planted more wheat than the government desired, it was stated.

LOAN SUM TOTAL SET AT $35,000

Property Owners Are Required To Sign Petition

Mayor Allen W. Jacobs announced he would submit a proposal to the City Council at its meeting scheduled for Monday night, to request a loan of $35,000 from the State revolving loan fund, to finance the municipality for the year.

The amount was reached at a conference with the Board of Works and City Clerk John Kennedy.

To obtain the loan, which bears an interest rate of 3 per cent, a majority of the taxpayers in numbers and from the standpoint of property valuation, must sign a petition.

Mr. Kennedy, who compiled figures on the tax situation, estimated that only 70 per cent of the city's $124,000 budget would be collected this year because of flood losses and decreased valuations. He also estimated that in 1938, Jeffersonville's pre-flood assessments total of $8,000,000, would be cut at least $1,500,000 because of depreciation in values.
