From this moment until the completion of the elaborate dedicatory program planned, tramping feet are expected to tread the course of the new traffic structure. At midnight Thursday night the structure is to be opened to pleasure cars and motorist as well as pedestrians will have the privilege of driving over the structure, without charge. Officials in charge of arranging plans for traffic and the parade on the Indiana shore have announced that beginning on Thursday afternoon no vehicles or automobiles will be permitted on Sixth street from Kentucky to Illinois avenues and on Illinois to the bridge approach. This restriction is to be in force and operative until after the pedestrian parade.

The parade will form on and around Court Avenue, Wall and Spring streets, so as to take advantage of Warden Park for the gathering of those who will take part in the parade, it was said today. The parade will be timed to leave Spring street and Court avenue in time to meet the parade from Louisville in the center of the bridge at 2:30 p. m.

Beginning at 6 o'clock on Friday night, no machines will be permitted to park on West Riverside Drive between Mulberry and the bridge until after the display of fireworks from the new bridge. Residents on West Riverside Drive and in this territory are kindly requested by the committee not to park their own machines in front of their residences after the hour on the specified date.

"No parking" signs are to be stationed on the restricted district and are to be enforced during the celebration period.

Hoover Returns To Official Desk

Washington—President Hoover was safely back in the White House today, apparently in excellent physical condition in spite of his strenuous four-day trip in the Middle West.

The continual bad weather and repeated public appearance in cold and sometimes driving rain seemed to have had no adverse effect on either the President or Mrs. Hoover. The former went immediately to his office upon return to catch up on official business that had accumulated while he was away.

Both the President and Mrs. Hoover were greatly distressed by the death of Robert Earle, young national guardsman, at Madison, Ind., of wounds suffered in a premature explosion of gun powder while a presidential salute was being fired there. The President sent a telegram to the parents of the young man expressing regret of himself and Mrs. Hoover that this accident should have happened and another message to the Mayor of Madison, expressing regret at the injury of three other guardsmen.

Jury Finds Fall Guilty In $100,000 Bribe Case, Friday

VERDICT COMES AS SHOCK TO DOHNEY AND PLAINTIFF COUNSEL

Washington, (MS)—Eight men and four women today found former Secretary of Interior, Albert B. Fall, guilty of having accepted a $100,000 bribe from E. L. Dohney, California oil-baron, in exchange for an invaluable lease on the naval oil reserves. The jury took 23 hours and 50 minutes to reach its verdict. Some of the harshness in the guilty verdict was removed, however, by the fact that the jury recommended mercy.

It is considered extremely doubtful that a maximum penalty will be assessed because of the jury's recommendation of mercy. The verdict was a stunning blow to the aged defendant, to his "Old Friend" Dohney who contended that the hundred thousand dollars was just a loan from one old friend to another and to Falls counsel. All had confidently expected a verdict of acquittal.

Europe Faces Good Winter Says Report

London—Winter soon will come creeping over Europe, throwing an actual cold wet blanket over millions of people who, since the war, have come to dread these sombre months of the year. Winter in Europe means intense cold, rain, snow increased unemployment, hunger, suffering, some actual starvation.

It has meant more and more hardships for the millions since 1914. Will the coming winter be a happy exception? It should be, for indications are that the major countries of Europe face the most settled and favorable winter, economically and politically, since the war.

England, enlivened by a new labor government has made definite progress in the field of world politics, as witnessed at the Hague conference and in Premier MacDonald's visit to Washington.

Her internal economic problems still are far from solved. France is sound and healthy internally and has few worries on the outside, although she still maintains a pouting dislike for a Yorkshireman, Philip Snowden.

Germany seems certain to continue to improve economically, but her immediate political future is not as promising. Italy is on the up-grade economically and politically; The Hague settlement synchronizes with this act but is not the cause of the phenomenon.

Russia faces another winter of short rations. Despite this, the optimism of Soviet leaders concerning the future of the country is supported by numerous tangible facts.

Behind this picture of the approaching winter, considered the rosiest in recent years but still not bursting in brilliant colors, hang the black clouds of unemployment and political unrest. Winter will add its own drab touches of fog, hunger and bitter cold.

Cotton Boost Planned By U. S. Farm Board

$100,000,000 NOW AVAILABLE TO CO-OPERATIVES SAYS BODY

Washington—As the first major step of its career, the Federal Farm Board has worked out a plan for improving the present price of cotton and is prepared to take similar action on wheat under a scheme to be announced later.

The board is of the opinion that prevailing cotton prices are too low, and believes the solution lies in more orderly marketing on this year's crop. It is prepared to lend an unlimited amount of money to the cotton growers, that they may hold their product off the market. More cotton, it believes, has been rushed into the market than it can temporarily absorb, with resulting depressed prices and lack of confidence in cotton values.

To assist the growers to hold back their crop and meanwhile meet their financial obligations, the board proposes to lend to cotton operatives.

In a statement announcing its plan, the board pointed out that there is a cotton co-operative in every cotton-growing State open to membership of every cotton farmer. The grower may join the co-operative, the statement continued, ship his cotton to its concentration point, and draw his advance after it has been graded and classified.

The co-operative will market the cotton in orderly fashion through the year, said the board, and will finally settle with the farmer "on the basis of the final price obtained."

"The board places no limit on the amount of Government money to be so loaned," the statement said. "Nearly $100,000,000 is available for the purpose, and if necessary, the board will also ask Congress to appropriate more."

McNutt Denies Speech Charge

Bloomington—Paul V. McNutt, dean of the Indiana university law school, and past national commander of the American Legion in a speech here Tuesday denied charges by William B. Shearer before a senate investigating committee that McNutt used in a speech in Washington in January.

"Shearer did not write that speech nor any other speech that I have ever made on naval situation," Dean McNutt said. "All sources used in those speeches can be verified. Those who sought passage of the cruiser bill acted as patriots and not as paid propagandists."
